The capital's new café and coffee shop chain is also a contender for our favourite place to make you feel at home with a cup of coffee on a freezing early morning. Little Machine that Could is a rather charming café with quirky and often hilarious puns on its menu, coffee machine and wall art. And that's not all. For those who are keen, there is also a milk bar, which brings back a heady fragrant memory from childhood, served in a fine china setting, complete with sweet treats. If you don't want to bother with breakfast, there are also a few savoury items on the menu too. As the café was also going to open a location in Telok Kurau, well, a more convenient location in Telok Kurau, we had a chat with the coffee machine on duty. His name is Brain, and he doesn't have much to say, except, "Are you the one who wanted to make me talk? Because I really don't like talking!" and, "Where are we?" and, "Why do I have this mouth on my body?". But in all seriousness, the coffee machine definitely knows what he has been up to the past few months. There were staff changes, his person (the espresso machine) was traded in with a more energy efficient model, and the old wooden structure was replaced with a more modern, glass and metal one to carry the name of the café. In fact, many things had to be done to get the café ready, for which the Little Machine that Could team is just happy it's finally open and doing well. So, we went up to the team to find out what's so different, and whether they're ready to add more coffee shops to the coffee-loving island. The Little Machine that Could team said: "Well

I'm sure it is something simple. I have read a few questions here and none of the solutions solve my problem. My code is as follows: library(xlsx) library(dplyr) library(ggplot2) doc = 25) { return("Good on you") } else { return("Bad day") } The error I get is: Error in doc$DATA$Age >= 25 : wrong number of dimensions Thanks in advance. A: It seems like you might just be after an ifelse statement (as opposed to if). With that in mind you can try: ifelse(doc$DATA$Age >= 25, "Good on you", "Bad day") Hope this helps! Walthamstow Yard Walthamstow Yard is a railway station on the Great Eastern Main Line, serving the eastern part of London Borough of Waltham Forest. It is located on the north bank of the River Lea in the London Borough of Waltham Forest at the junction of Rowley Avenue, Mercers Road and Rowley Avenue with Roundswell Lane. The station first opened in 1905 as Walthamstow Cross, and was renamed Walthamstow Central in 1922. In 1938 it became Walthamstow East. The name was changed to Walthamstow Yard in 2004.
